

HYBRID WARFARE SEMINAR

Hybrid warfare is a theory of military strategy that blends conventional warfare, irregular warfare and cyberwarfare with other influencing methods. Hybrid warfare also employs political warfare, fake news, diplomacy, lawfare, and foreign electoral intervention. It describes a wide array of warfare techniques that do not correspond with earlier notions of warfare.

This seminar aims to provide participants with a greater understanding of the topic and will explore:

- The definition and elements of hybrid warfare
- Some recent events in the Nordic region highlighting hybrid warfare tactics encountered
- The role of cyber, psychological, and conventional military operations in hybrid warfare
- Emerging trends and strategic responses to hybrid threats
